

The Miami Herald

August 25, 2011

LOCAL & STATE

FLORIDA BRIEFS

Law firms to merge: The statewide Florida law firm of Fowler White Boggs and the Fort Lauderdale based firm of Atkinson, Diner, Stone, Mankuta & Ploucha P.A. will merge in the first half of 2012, the law firms announced Wednesday. This merger is a continuation of the expansion of the Fort Lauderdale office of Fowler, which will grow to nearly 30 attorneys in less than two years. Business and construction litigation, land use, real estate, corporate, immigration, tax, intellectual property, healthcare and wealth management are some of the areas of practice the combined firm will offer.